

Master of Public Health Program University of Missouri

Meet the 2016-2017 MU MPH Alumni Ambassadors

Caitlin Jandegian • Washington DC

Caitlin graduated in 2013 from the MU MPH program concentrating in Veterinary Public Health. Currently, she is employed in the DC metro area as contractor for the USDA Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service within the Veterinary Services division, working on Foreign Animal Disease Preparedness and Response materials and national outbreak reporting.

Contact Caitlin: cmjkw@mail.missouri.edu

Sheila Guice • Fort Worth, Texas

Sheila earned her MPH in 2012 from MU and accepted a Fellowship with the CDC where she was placed in Tarrant County Health Department as an Epidemiology Specialist. In this role she conducts investigations to identify and analyze incidence, prevalence, and trends that causes infectious diseases. In 2014 she was deployed to Sierra Leone and worked the front lines to assist with reducing the transmission of Ebola.

Contact Sheila: smguice1@cougars.ccis.edu

Marissa Thomas • Madison, Wisconsin

Marissa graduated from the University of Missouri with a Master of Public Health degree in 2013. She currently works as a Public Health Associate for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) in Madison, Wisconsin. Marissa's current work is focused on tobacco control and prevention initiatives.

Contact Marissa: mlt7k8@mail.missouri.edu

100% Online. 100% Affordable.

publichealth.missouri.edu

Alumni Ambassadors serve as volunteer liaisons between the MU MPH Program and prospective students, public health professionals and community members.