GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN EPIDEMIOLOGY

The required courses are:

Core Courses: (9 credits)
1. P_HLTH 8420: Principles of Epidemiology OR V_PBIO 8455: Veterinary Epidemiology & Biostatistics
2. P_HLTH 8120: Applied Epidemiology in Community Assessment
3. NURS 8425: Participatory Research Approaches for Health and Health Systems OR NURS 8020: Intermediate Statistical Methods for Health Researchers
   (these courses require some synchronous chat sessions)

Elective (3 credits): one elective may be chosen from below:
1. P_HLTH 8767: Epidemiology of Vaccine-Preventable Diseases
   OR
2. P_HLTH 8620 Emerging Zoonoses Diseases

*Pre-requisites include:
1. STAT 7020: Statistical methods in the Health Sciences (3 credits)
2. P_HLTH 7952: Research Methods in Public Health or a comparable graduate research methods course (3 credits)

Who can apply?
Both degree seeking students and students pursuing a stand-alone certificate.

New applicants can apply via the online application portal.

*MPH students already in the program can apply by completing this form and emailing it to the MPH Program.